THE FLAMES DEVOUR

Over a Million Dollars Worth

OF PROPERTY IN ST. LOUIS.

Wheat Prohibition Definitely Signed by the Czar.

Nevada Bank to Close up Its New York Agency.

A Million-Dollar Fire.

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Nov. 17.—Cannery millinery, Penny & Gentile's dry goods, Crawford & Co.'s dry goods and another big dry goods store, the largest stores of the kind in the west, and the Union Market, are burning. The fire is spreading northward to a number of dwelling houses. The loss will exceed a million dollars. Two firemen were injured.

The most disastrous fire which has visited St. Louis in many years started in the furnace-room of the large dry goods house of Penny & Gentile's, on the southwest corner of Broadway and Franklin avenue, at about 4:30 o'clock this morning. The watchman immediately turned in the alarm, and then a second and third within ten minutes.

The flames spread so rapidly that a general alarm was given, which brought out the entire fire department, but before the engines arrived Penny & Gentile's, the Sennefeldt Millinery Company and the mammoth establishment of the famous Shoe and Clothing Company, occupying an entire block four-story building on Broadway, between Franklin avenue and Morgan street, were in flames, and within two hours all the walls had fallen and nothing was left but ashes and bent and twisted iron girders. Opposite is the immense dry goods store of D. C. Crawford & Co., and the heat was so intense that the whole of Crawford's store, including the display windows and all the show cases in the front part of the store from top to bottom are badly damaged by heat, causing the probable loss of $50,000. Opposite Penny & Gentile's, the whole row from Broadway to the alley is badly damaged. Adjoining Crawford's (on Broadway) the following business houses are burned out: McDonald Bros. hats; G. H. Clements, shoes; Charles Stix, gents' furnishing and cloaks; Mrs. Tobin, millinery; F. Wendell & Co., New York Millinery Company; the Square Dealing Clothing Company and the Wainman House, the guest of which safely evacuated the building.

On Franklin avenue, just west of Penny & Gentile's, the general dry goods store of Thomas Hodson is damaged by smoke and water to the extent of $30,000; insured. The total loss will probably exceed a million dollars, but reliable figures are not obtainable at present. Two firemen are badly injured.

At 10 o'clock the fire burned itself out and two or three engines are throwing water on the ruins to quench the flames that are here and there fanned into activity by the strong wind. The firemen deserve great credit for their noble work, considering the intensely cold weather, which was increased ten-fold by the heavy wind.

During the time this fire was burning the handsome residence of Captain John A. Scudder, in the aristocratic portion of the city, was destroyed by fire, with a housefull of costly furniture. The loss here will exceed $75,000; fully insured.

3:15 p. m.—The large stationary establishment of Levison & Blythe on Third street, between Olive and Pine, is now burning.

The night watchman Jasper, employed by the Sennefeldt Millinery Company, who was on duty last night had not turned up at 2 p. m. and fears are entertained that he has been burned to death.

3:30 p. m.—The fire at Levison & Blythe's is now under control. The loss will be comparatively small.

Assessment Roll.

Special to the GAZETTE.

PORTLAND (Or.), Nov. 17.—The city assessment roll for 1891 shows that the total valuation of assessable property, excluding the indebtedness, is near $50,000,000. The gross valuation is about $60,000,000. Last year's assessment of the three municipalities which now constitute the city of Portland was a net total valuation of about $31,000,000.

The Farmer's Alliance.

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—The Supreme Council of the Farmer's Alliance was called to order at 10:40 o'clock by President Force, of the Indiana Alliance, with nearly all of the 120 delegates and 500 spectators in attendance. Mayor Thomas Sullivan was introduced and was received with enthusiasm. In a short address he welcomed the delegates to Indianapolis. J. F. Tillman, Secretary of the Alliance Executive Committee, responded. After thanking the people of Indianapolis for their warm welcome, and paying a tribute to President Harrison, he said: "It is the farming and laboring people who feed the world, who fought the battles of this country, and to whose energy and patriotism this great and glorious land of ours is indebted for its richest blessings of liberty and peace. It is not our mission to tear down nor disintegrate our honestly conducted industries, but to all illegitimate combinations and monopolists that tend to destroy the very spirit and intent of the constitution. We are not here as politicians, seeking to disrupt political parties or to promote the fortunes of any political aspirant, nor are we here in the interest of any third party, but by very organic teaching we have a right to vote with whatever party will advance good government."

He called attention to the last "billion dollar Congress," and criticized its expenditures, which he said was more than was spent by all the Congresses of the first seventy-two years in the history of this Government. This, he said, was more than $3 for every man, woman and child in the United States to support a national government, not including other taxes levied. He then said: "How long would they endure it if they collected directly from them, instead of indirectly, as it is now collected through our tariff. Say what you please about tariff, but it must and shall come down to a reasonable basis of taxation, and these reckless expenditures by Congress must be stopped or we will continue to change the personnel of every Congress. Yet this is not all, nor is it at the bottom of that which brought about the uprising of the people of this great country. I can best illustrate it by the use of the three first letters of three words. These words are transportation, tariff and trust. Here is trouble, and there are three c's which are the first letters of three words—crush, change and control. This is the unwritten and iron-bound oath our friendly political newspapers abuse us so much about. I will now tell you what this oath is. It is to crush trust, change tariff and control transportation."

He then thanked God for the Farmers Alliance and all kindred organizations, and then proceeded: "We are going to succeed in our efforts to obtain a large circulating medium. We must have more currency and we will have it. The farmers of the North who wore the blue have reached to the South and taken the Southern farmers, who wore the gray, by the hand and said to him: 'We have never asked you to surrender to king monopoly and partial legislation, but only to preserve a Union alike, good for all; and no brave Southern farmer has ever surrendered to such circumstances.' Though defeated, if it was but to save the union and chivalry of the entire South, to-day it is determined to preserve the Union and constitution at all hazards, and the result is that sectional strife and partisan prejudice is buried face downward. The Farmers Alliance means the greatest good for the greatest number, and is determined to have exact justice for all and especial favors to none. It numbers in its corporation nearly four hundred thousand and it has come to stay, and will be held intact as a non-partisan organization. Members of all political parties may join the organization and it will never become a third political party. There is a big political significance in it, but not political significance, because that would mean hopeless ruin."

Tillman's reference to the non-partisan nature of the Alliance caused something of a sensation and was received with about equal evidence of approval and disapproval.

A Damaging Overflow.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A report comes from Somerset that the Parrot river has overflowed and caused much damage to the surrounding farm lands. The damage already amounts to $350,000, and it is believed that unless the break through which the water is flowing is soon stopped the loss will amount to an enormous sum.

Prince George's Condition.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A bulletin issued from the Marlborough House this morning states that Prince George passed a good night. No unfavorable symptoms have developed, and unless the Prince should suffer a relapse, it is believed his progress towards recovery will be rapid.

Panama Canal Company.

By Cable and Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The liquidator of the Panama Canal Company, in his report to the Seine tribunal, says the agreement reached in the negotiations with the United States of Columbia in regard to the canal by Lieutenant Wyse do not meet the hopes of the liquidator. He trusts, however, that the Government of Columbia will accept the modifications of the agreement after the new company has been constituted. Negotiations for the credit of Foncier with the French Government in regard to the formation of a new Panama Canal Company continue. If the Government refuses to intervene, this great enterprise will be definitely condemned.

The officer in his report continues: The United States Government is watching for a favorable opportunity to obtain control of the canal at a small cost without taking into account the services already expended in the undertaking. The only way out of the difficulty, he declares, is for a semi-official pressure to be brought to bear on the Governor of the Credit Foncier to induce him to bring the matter to a satisfactory issue. The report dilates on the enormous difficulties which will present themselves in the attempt to realize on and distribute the Canal Company's assets. It concludes by saying the best means to overcome these difficulties is for the Senate and Chamber of Deputies to pass a law assimilating the difference in the procedure of liquidation of bankruptcy, so as to enable the liquidator to have the power to sell the entire property as it stands, or to realize on the available assets and distribute the proceeds.

Delegates to the Mining Congress.

Special to the GAZETTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Delegates to the First National Mining Congress, which meets at Denver to-morrow, has left here for that city. The delegates appointed by Governor Markham are J. Garver of San Diego county, J. W. Conant of Shasta, H. H. Boomer of San Francisco, W. H. Alderly of Napa, R. M. Murray of San Joaquin, and J. Niles Searles of Nevada City, and C. E. Clinch of Grass Valley. The delegates at large are W. Ireland, Jr., and F. M. Pixley, of San Francisco. Mayor Sanderson appointed the following delegates to represent this city: Wm. Julian, Jr., Ross Brown, Louis Jamin, John Finlay, A. J. Bowie, T. C. Howell and A. B. Paul.

The Sick Actor's Condition.

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—Florence, the actor, who is lying seriously ill here with pneumonia, passed a fairly comfortable night, and his condition this morning is slightly improved.

At noon K. J. Florence's physicians had a consultation, at the conclusion of which it was stated that the patient was in an extremely critical condition. The physicians have but small hope for his recovery, and every preparation has been made for the end.

Agitating Annexation.

By Cable and Associated Press.

WINDSOR (Ont.), Nov. 17.—Sol White, a Unionist leader, received a letter from Markham, near Toronto, saying that joint debates were being held there on the subject of political union with the United States, and that they are attracting great attention. The letter also says that many persons in that vicinity are in favor of such union, and are only awaiting an opportunity to declare themselves.

Storm Raging in Wisconsin.

By Associated Press.

ASHLAND (Wis.), Nov. 17.—A heavy blizzard raged in Northern Wisconsin last night. The wind was blowing a gale and the snow drifting. Apprehension is felt for some of the vessels which cleared yesterday morning with ore and lumber. If the storm continues at the present rate railroads will be blocked. The weather is getting colder.

Fearful Scenes at a Fire.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Half a dozen or more lives were lost early this morning by a fire in a row of buildings in Brooklyn. The flames were discovered at 2:20 o'clock on the third floor of a four-story frame building, No. 120 Nostrand Avenue. The buildings were occupied chiefly by the families of mechanics.

The flames spread with great rapidity and in half an hour four or five buildings were blazing at once. Harry and Edward Ashworth were rescued by firemen from the top floor of No. 120, and both were badly burned. A butcher named Schnabel, who lived on the second floor of No. 120, rushed into the street with a child in his arms. He said his wife, one of his children, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Schellenberger and her two children, Minnie and Willie, 15 and 17 years old respectively, were unable to escape and were burning to death. He ran up and down the street in an excited way, calling upon the firemen to save them. The wildest excitement existed among the people in the neighborhood, and the streets were filled with half-dressed crying women and frantic men.

At 3 o'clock the whole row, consisting of twenty frame houses, was in flames, and every available engine in Brooklyn was fighting the fire. At this hour it is impossible to tell how many lives are lost, but one entire family is missing and no trace can be found of five members of the Schnabel family.

LATER.—The wild rumors circulated of whole families being lost in the fire have proved groundless. The loss on the buildings is estimated at $30,000; fully insured.

Telephone Patents.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—To-day the United States Patent Office issued a patent to Emile Berliner, assignor to the Bell Telephone Co., for a combined telegraph and telephone, which has been pending in that office since June 4, 1877. It is understood that the Bell Company believes this patent covers the features necessary to the practical use of the telephones. Inventors do not take that view of the patent, and they think that when Bell's basic patent expires in March, 1893, they will be able to produce practical telephones that will not infringe on the Berliner patent. The issue of this patent is the second step taken by Commissioner Simonds, and possibly the last which it will be necessary to take to practically dispose of the long existing tangle of telephone litigations in the patent office.

Nevada Bank to Close up Its New York Agency.

Special to the GAZETTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—A New York special says: Vice-President Bigelow of the Nevada Bank of San Francisco has been in town for some time to arrange to close up the New York agency of the bank. The reason given for this is that the new management of the bank, which assumed control about a year and a half ago, wish to concentrate their business in San Francisco. The change will be made December 1st. Some New York bank will be made the correspondent for the Nevada Bank, but which one it is not announced. The New York agency has been in operation for thirteen years. It has always done a large business, and the report that it would be closed caused surprise in Wall Street.

Poor Security.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—British merchants are receiving many Brazilian orders for machinery, apparatus, etc., for the development of Brazilian industries, but they refuse to fill them at present, fearing a further fall in the rate of exchange, although the Brazilians offer to deposit with the Bank of England an ample amount of paper currency as security.

By Cable and Associated Press.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The bourse has been generally unsettled and there have been large dealings. Roubles were declared nearly a point further upon its being positively stated that the wheat prohibition was definitely signed by the Czar.

A Large Deficit.

By Cable and Associated Press.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The Imperial Budget for 1892-3 shows an estimated deficit of 150,000,000, which is mainly covered by the proposed loan of 150,000,000 marks for military, naval and railway departments, and a supplementary loan for fortifying Heligoland.

ST. Monday, November 17, 1891

THE young German Emperor recently added to his signature in the "Golden Book" of Munich the Latin legend, "The Will of the King is the Supreme Law." The Bavarians do not like it. It cost some concessions to induce Bavaria to cast her lot with the Empire. The control of the Bavarian Army, for instance, is retained by the kingdom, except in time of war; and the people have always, since the organization of the Empire, shown a disposition to stand upon their constitutional rights. Emperor William's declaration sounds too much like absolutism to please the Bavarians. He has shown many tendencies in that direction since his accession to the throne, which have aroused opposition elsewhere than in Bavaria.

The Bulletin says: "The Nevada State Board of Trade shows a disposition to stand in with the Traffic Association in the work of obtaining cheaper rail transportation. Somehow these people in the interior do not seem to share in the apprehensions of the railroad organs, open or secret, in this city and State, and there can be no harmony of interests between San Francisco and the interior."

The Nevada State Board of Trade takes the ground that it would be impossible to make our condition worse than it is, and most anything for a change is their motto.

IRRIGATED lands have supported the world's greatest populations, and the experience of ages has proved that an acre of land properly treated with water from a ditch will produce far more than an acre that is dependent upon a capricious rainfall. Those who irrigate in parts of France and Italy where the rainfall is greatest know right well what they are doing, and there are thousands of places in the United States where the people will do the same thing before the lapse of another century. It is in this way that the food problem of the future must be solved.

GENERAL MILES wants to mobilize the National Guard of the several States and concentrate them at Chicago during the Exposition. They would make an army of about 100,000 men. The officers would have an exceptional chance to learn how to handle large masses of troops, and there would be comparison of notes between all parts of the Union. There would also be an opportunity for sharp criticism from European military men accustomed to mobilizations on a grand scale.

BUCKLEY threatens to go back to San Francisco and tell what his enemies would like to hear. The trouble will be that he will necessarily criminate himself in criminalizing others. He would rather "talk through his hat" in Montreal than in the witness-box in San Francisco.

The State University is growing in popular favor every day. Our people are beginning to understand that there is no necessity of sending their children away to get an education and are moving to Reno.

WHICH end of the continent will get the National Conventions next year? Will San Francisco or Tacoma knock the peach into the basket or will Chicago or New York capture the prize?

R. A. Blair, representing McCrea's Sacramento Flour Mills is here to-day. Mr. Blair says that good milling wheat will be worth two cents in a very few days. It is going up every day now and our farmers are sure of a good profit on their product. Mr. Blair sold large quantities of flour at Truckee, Boca, and in fact every town on the line of the road. The celebrated "Snow Flake" is going like hot cakes.

LABRADOR ICEBERGS.

Gorgeous Specimens of Nature's Handiwork.

Glories of the Frozen Deep as Viewed in the Summer Sea of the Far North—Graphic Pictures.

"From Battle Harbor for one hundred miles north the coast is nearly straight and the sea is deep close under the high cliffs. Here we found one magnificent procession of icebergs from the northern horizon," says a writer in the New York Sun, "where they appeared merely as glittering white specks, to where they disappeared in the south. Frequently these bergs are at such regular distance from each other that they present the appearance of a great line of battle-ships drawn up for action. From the open ocean some of these bergs are carried by the tidal currents into the narrow passages between the islands, where they become finally stranded. When the bergs break off from the parent glaciers in Greenland they have a more or less rectangular outline, and if, while they continue floating in the open sea, any considerable part is broken off or melts away, they rotate and assume another position of stable equilibrium. But when they are once stranded they are held fast, and are sculptured by the sea waves and the hot air of summer. I believe, therefore, that on no other part of the coasts of all the wide seas where icebergs appear can such fantastic forms be witnessed as we beheld on this portion of the coast of Labrador. Occasionally a berg is carried in by a tidal current until the existence of salt water would hardly be imagined except for the white towering spire of such a mass of ice.

"At one such sheltered haven, properly called 'Snug harbor,' we witnessed one of these remarkable forms. The sea had planed away the upper portion of the berg so that the ice was covered with sea water three or four feet in depth, which assumed in the clear light a line of rich emerald green. From this submerged platform arose a pyramid of ice one hundred and fifty feet high. The base was one grand arch, and as we approached near to it we saw the melting ice pouring over the archway a curtain of falling rain. From another portion of this same submerged platform rose an obelisk of ice higher than the Egyptian obelisk in Central Park. The ship steamed very near it in order that we might get a series of photographs of this remarkable berg. A short distance further north a fellow voyager, who came all the way from England to study these natural wonders, called out to me to come forward and see a 'cathedral in crystal.' Such indeed it was. We estimated its length to be a quarter of a mile. The Catholic cathedral on Fifth avenue is located on a block about four hundred feet in length. If one will imagine this extended to become one-quarter of a mile he will have a faithful picture of the view then before us. First rose two spires to a height of at least two hundred feet. Then came the body of the structure, and a grand rounded dome, surmounted by another spire and a series of square building-like masses, which my Episcopal friend explained was the decorey. As we steamed by the high spires took on a change of form and assumed exactly the outline of an immense statue of the Virgin Mary, with the hands extended as if conferring a blessing on those who were passing by. In comparison with this our own statue of 'Liberty Enlightening the World' was of very moderate dimensions. It would have repaid any lover of the wonderful in nature to make the entire journey to witness these two bergs.

"The surface of these bergs melts so rapidly that they almost appear as if coated with oil, and hence are perfect mirrors for any light in the sky. It is a common experience to all people to have been surprised at sunset by a bright flash of flame from a neighboring hill or mountain. We all know it to be only the reflection of the setting sun from the small window of some building. In the northern climes, where the days are long, the twilight not only lingers, but stretches itself for many hours along the side of the setting sun.

"We were coursing to the north, and would soon pass a huge berg. The water around us was so dark as to be nearly black. It became of an apple-green hue where it rose over the submerged platform of the ice, and broke in a line of white foam against the sides of the white berg. In a moment more the ship had reached the right position for the great mass of ice to become a mirror, and instantly the berg reflected all the colors of the setting sun, and became a glowing ruby of mountain size. Such an effect I have never seen in any of the arctic paintings which I have been privileged to study.

"On our return through these intricate passages the winding lanes of water were lighted up with the full moon that made a broad band of silver over the quiet sea. Suddenly out of the surrounding darkness there came a bright light. Bishop Williams, of Quebec, who sat beside me, said: 'There is a lighthouse on this shore.' I replied: 'We are far from any such indication of commercial progress; we must be viewing some other remarkable phenomena.' The next moment we recognized the light we saw as the glittering spire of an iceberg illuminated by the full moon, while the rest of the ice was hidden in the mysterious darkness below."

Killing Rabbits with Arsenic.
A California newspaper says: Those who placed a mixture of arsenic in their orchards some weeks ago, when the grasshoppers were so bad, in the hope of killing the insects that ate of it, have been rewarded for their trouble in a way that they did not expect. The remedy did not prove effective, in all cases in exterminating the grasshoppers, but it has proved most effective in killing rabbits, which are about as destructive to a young orchard as grasshoppers. It is said that many rabbits have been killed by eating of the arsenic mixture, and in many places their carcasses can be seen lying thick through the brush adjacent to the orchards where the arsenic was used.

Pimples.

The old idea was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. Thus the old Sarsaparilla contained potash, a drastic mineral, that instead of decreasing, actually increased more eruptions. You have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparillas. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood creating power, is the seat of all vitiation or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, results in pimples. A clean stomach and healthful digestion purifies it and they disappear. Thus Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is compounded after the modern idea to regulate the bowels and stimulate the digestion. The effect is immediate. A short testimonial to contrast the action of the potash Sarsaparilla and Joy's. Mrs. C. D. Stuart, of 400 Hayes St., B. F., writes: "I have for years had indigestion. I tried a popular Sarsaparilla but it actually caused more pimples to break out on my face. Hearing that Joy's was a later preparation and acted differently, I tried it and the pimples immediately disappeared."

J. B. Wilson, 37 Clay St., Shreveport, La. says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber of Cockport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything else. Moved to Los Angeles. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottle at W. F. Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep.

Sounds fierce, don't it? But O, how fast and furious are the lockings in rough weather! The intestinal waters begotten in your vitals by the sea's commotion beggars description. What's the proper caper under these circumstances? Take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing comparable to it for remedying sea sickness or the kindred nausea from which many delicate land travelers suffer. Dyspepsia, cramps, flatulency and biliousness also are invariably and promptly remedied by the Bitters. Exposure in rough weather is often productive of harmful consequences, which may, however, be averted by the timely use of the Bitters, which defuse an agreeable warmth through the system, and promotes an active circulation of the blood in the extremities when benumbed and chilled. Malaria, kidney trouble, rheumatism and debility are remedied by the Bitters.

The tableaux will be humorous, pathetic and sentimental and will be worth the price of admission. I Mean It.

Cephaline cures all kinds of head aches, even the most chronic and aggravated cases vanish before its magic influence. Ask your druggist for it.

WHITE PINE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the "News."

The White Pine News says: Hon. A. C. Cleveland, though not, as the term goes, a mining man, has been doing some good rustling lately in the interest of two well-known mining properties in White Pine county. We mean the Star at Cherry Creek and the Argus at Taylor. These two mines have, in the past, produced several million dollars, and were not closed down on account of non-productiveness, but through dissensions in their management. If Cleve's exertions will result in their resumption of operations as bullion producers, to him, more than any other, will be due the credit.

News of a cheering nature reaches us from Cherry Creek. It is to the effect that the Hayward party, of San Francisco, has purchased the Nelson Con. M. and M. interests there, and that they will commence work immediately to pump the water out of the Star mine. This good news reaches us so direct that there is hardly a doubt of its authenticity. We hope in a few weeks to be able to congratulate the people of Cherry on having a live San Francisco company operating on Star Hill.

THE FIGHT FOR PURE FOOD.

Success of the Efforts to Scotch Bad Baking Powders.

The aggressive war waged by the Royal Baking Powder Company upon the hosts of adulterated and impure baking powders sold throughout the country is having a desirable effect. The scandalous attacks upon the Royal company by the manufacturers of the impure goods (which are made doubtless both from a spirit of revenge and in the hope of breaking the effect of the damaging exposures) show that they are hit, while the official reports of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration fully corroborate the statements made by the Royal company, have awakened a wholesome public sentiment in favor of repressive laws, which means mischief to the illegitimate traffic.

The Royal Baking Powder Company set out some time ago to expose the character and to break up the sale of adulterated baking powders. Having found, from an examination of many specimens, that there was a large number of actually injurious powders in the market, they brought the matter before the public and denounced the makers by name in the press and to the health authorities.

The affair was taken up by physicians, Board of Health, and Legislatures throughout the country. Chemists were employed to test the various powders in the market, and the government itself directed analysis to be made before it would purchase the supplies needed for army, navy and Indian use.

The result justified the charges made by the Royal company. Not only were the majority of baking powders in the market found to be adulterated, but many of them were ascertained to contain alum and other poisonous ingredients to such an extent as to render them positively unsafe for use in human food.

Another Resort.

Griffith and Jones of Fresno county, Cal., will shortly begin the construction of a fine hotel and bath-rooms at Amadoc, the present terminus of the N. C. & O. Railway. It is contemplated to make a resort for invalids and pleasure seekers. Mr. Griffith is a member of the California Traffic Association and a very prominent man. Honey Lake is sure to boom next season.

Evie's Daughters.

Marion Harland, on pages 163 and 165 of her popular work, "Evie's Daughters"; or, Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother," says:

"For the aching back—should it be allowed in recovering its normal strength—an Alcock's Porous Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain tonic qualities developed in the wear. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

"For pain in the back wear an Alcock's Porous Plaster constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

Knights of Honor Masquerade.

Everybody is talking about the grand masque ball to take place Thanksgiving night. It will be the event of the season. The committee have completed all their arrangements. The magnificent costumes from Jahn & Co. will be here Sunday, Nov. 22d, and will be rented at very low rates, within reach of all. Secure your tickets.

Must be in in the Morning.

Church notices, business notices, and news of a local nature must be handed in at this office before 12 o'clock to insure their publication, and parties interested are respectfully requested to govern themselves accordingly.

A SPORTY EXPRESS CLERK.

Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Safe Relieved of $2,905 in Three Weeks—Fare and Wages.

The Carson Tribune says: For several days it has been known that Arthur Leonard, late clerk of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express office in Carson, had embezzled the company's funds, but at the request of Agent Hofer and the Pacific Surety Company's representative, who were in hopes that the young man would be able to straighten matters, the Tribune refrained from making any publication. Leonard had sent letters and a telegram to his parents in Vermont to come to his assistance had but their telegraphed yesterday that they were unable to help him, so he was handed over to the Sheriff and locked in jail last night.

While he has for a long time had a penchant for faro, stud horse poker and fast women, Leonard appeared to be especially sporty for the past three weeks, bucking the tiger nightly and playing for big stakes. Many remarked that it looked strange to see a man working for $85 a month so plethoric in funds. Behold the sequel.

Route Agent Rockwell came here last week, and on examining the accounts, found that $2,905 had been abstracted from the safe in three weeks. It appears he spent the whole amount at the faro table, stud-horse poker and on a fast woman with whom he was smitten.

It seems the Pacific Surety Company had insured Wells, Fargo & Co. against loss for $2,000 for Leonard. The balance, $905, will be stood by the express company. Leonard will probably go to prison for ten years. General sympathy prevails in the community for the young man, as he was generally liked.

QUEER RESULTS.
Some Very Odd Facts About the Numerals Three and Seven.

John W. Kirk, the white-haired veteran who was with Morse when the first working telegraph line was stretched and who stood beside the great inventor when the first message was transmitted from Annapolis Junction to Washington, has made during his life a great many interesting calculations in numbers, says the Boston Transcript. The two most remarkable numbers in the world are 3 and 7.

"The numeral seven," says Mr. Kirk, "the Arabians got from India, and all following have taken it from the Arabians. It is conspicuous in Biblical lore, being mentioned over 300 times in the Scriptures, either alone or compounded with other words. It seems a favorite numeral with the Divine mind, as nature as well as inside the Bible, as nature demonstrates in many ways, and all the other numerals bow to it. There is also another Divine favorite, the number three, the trinity. This is brought out by a combination of figures that is somewhat remarkable. It is the six figures 142,857.

"Multiply this by 2, the answer is 285,714.

"Multiply this by 3, the answer is 428,571.

"Multiply this by 4, the answer is 571,428.

"Multiply this by 5, the answer is 714,285.

"Multiply this by 6, the answer is 857,142.

"Each answer contains the same figure as the original sum, and no others, and three of the figures of the sum remain together in each answer, thus showing that figures preserve the trinity.

"Thus 285 appears in the first and second numbers, 571 in the second and third, 428 in the third and fourth, and 142 in the fourth and fifth.

It is also interesting to note that taking out of any two of these sums the group of three common to both, the other three, read in the usual order, from left to right, will also be in the same order in both sums.

"Take the first and second sums, for example. The group of 285 is common to both. Having read 285 out of the second sum, read right along and bring in the first figure of the thousands last. It will read 714. All the others will read in the same way.

"Again, note that the two groups of three in the first sum are the same as the two groups of three in the fourth reversed in order, and the same thing is true of the second and third. The last multiplication has its groups of three the same as those of the original number, reversed again.

"Examine these results again, and you will see that in these calculations all the numerals have appeared save the nine. Now multiply the original sum by the mighty 7—the divine favorite of the Bible and of creation—and behold the answer! The last of the numerals, and that one only in groups of three—again the trinity!

"No other combination of numbers will produce the same results. Does not this show the imperial multipotent numeral 7 and its divinity?"

IN THE WRONG HOTEL.
Awkward Predicament of an American Lady Through a Porter's Blunder.

Most of us have at one time or another experienced the inconvenience of not being acquainted with the language of the country wherein one is traveling. One can, therefore, say the London Standard, sympathize with the Washington lady whose misadventure while staying at Aix-les-Bains for the benefit of her health has found its way into print. The lady in question took the baths like most of the other visitors at the health resort. The bath over the patient, as is known, is rapidly dried, well enveloped in sheets and blankets and conveyed back to the hotel in a species of sedan chair. On reaching it he or she is laid into bed, wound up in the blankets like a mummy and, after being covered up with yet additional blankets and a quilt, is left to perspire for a certain period, longer or shorter, according to taste.

The American lady, an unmarried woman, was but imperfectly acquainted with the pronunciation of the French language, and when, lately, after her bath, she told the attendant to take her to "No. 11 at the hotel des Princes," he understood her to say the hotel de France. There she was conveyed, placed in bed in room eleven and left to perspire. After awhile she removed slightly the covering from her head to perceive, with the utmost distress, that she was in a strange bed, with no other dress save her blanket and that all around the room were articles of clothing, etc., proving the occupant thereof to belong to the opposite sex. The poor lady's state of mind may easily be imagined.

SECRET OF CHINESE VARNISH.
An Elastic Polish of Which the Mongolians Have the Monopoly.

The British consul at Hankow, writing of the varnish exported from that city, says he is informed that it is the gum of a tree—the rhus vernicifera. On this tree, before daylight, incisions are made; the gum that runs out is collected in the dark, and strained through a cotton cloth bag, leaving behind a large amount of dirt and refuse. This operation can only be performed in the dark, as light spoils the gum and causes it to cake with all the dirt in it. It cannot be strained in wet weather, as moisture causes it to solidify.

When the Chinese use this varnish they rub it on with a sort of mop, or swab, made of soft waste silk. It should only be used in wet weather, as if the atmosphere is dry when it is rubbed on it will always be sticky. As used by the Chinese, the varnish takes about a month to dry, and during the time it is drying it is poisonous to the eyes.

The consul thinks that this gum may have been one of the ingredients of the celebrated Chinese varnish, and he suggests that it might be worth the while of musical instrument makers to experiment with it, with a view to producing a varnish that would

CHRISTIANITY IN CHINA.
A Remarkable Sentence in a Recent Imperial Decree.

There is a remarkable sentence in the decree recently promulgated by the emperor of China through his council of ministers, says the New York Sun, providing for the protection of the Christian missionaries in all the provinces of his vast and populous empire. The emperor, after notifying all Tartar generals and other functionaries throughout his dominions that they must punish those rascals who interfere with the missionaries or spread false reports about them, and after saying that Chinese converts must be allowed to live in peace, makes this marvelous announcement, unparalleled in the annals of China: "The doctrine of Christianity has for its purpose the teaching of men to be good."

The imperial decree in which the Christian religion is thus spoken of is promulgated for the information and guidance of all his subjects, who number between three and four hundred millions. It is issued to a people, the great body of whom are here called pagans, by an emperor who is apt to be described by Christians as a pagan, through a council of ministers who do not believe in the Christian religion. Yet this emperor attributes to Christianity the sublime purpose of "teaching men to be good."

The imperial decree, which has by this time been promulgated over China, must give the Chinese people a new and amazing idea concerning the nature and purpose of Christianity.

The First Shot.
About the year 1783 a Bristol plumber named Watts dreamed that he was out in a shower of molten lead. He observed that the metal came down in spherical drops, and afterward, to find whether it would be so, he went to the top of a church and poured molten metal into a vessel of water below. To his great delight he found that the lead had gathered into beautifully formed globular balls and he at once took out a patent.

Mars and Its People.
M. Flammarion, the French astronomer, has suggested that in Mars they are a great deal more advanced, intellectually speaking, than we are ourselves, and that they have optical instruments which excel ours as much as the Lick telescope surpasses a piece of colored glass. Mars is, according to the same authority, an old planet, very old now, but one which has passed through all its hot periods.

A Severe Law.
The English people look more closely to the genuineness of these staples than we do. In fact, they have a law under which they make seizures and destroy adulterated products that are not what they are represented to be. Under this statute thousands of pounds of tea have been burned because of their wholesale adulteration.

Tea, by the way, is one of the most notorious adulterated articles of commerce. Not alone are the bright, shiny green teas artificially colored, but thousands of pounds of substitutes for tea leaves are used to swell the bulk of cheap teas; ash, sloe, and willow leaves being those most commonly used. Again, sweepings from tea warehouses are colored and sold as tea. Even exhausted tea leaves gathered from the tea-houses are kept, dried, and made over and find their way into the cheap teas.

The English government attempts to stamp this out by confiscation; but no tea is too poor for us, and the result is, that probably the poorest teas used by any nation are those consumed in America.

Beech's Tea is presented with the guarantee that it is uncolored and unadulterated; in fact, the genuine tea leaf pure and simple. Its purity insures superior strength, about one third less of it being required for an infusion than the artificial teas, and its fragrance and exquisite flavor is at once apparent. It will be a revelation to you. In order that its purity and quality may be guaranteed, it is sold only in pound packages bearing this trade-mark:
